

Synthesis and Evaluation

Names: _____

Topic: _____

Essential Question:

Can you influence Europeans to colonize the New World (America) and to settle in your colony?

Synthesis and Evaluation:

1. Now that you have gathered information, stop to synthesize (synthesize means to create something new from what you have learned) and evaluate your findings. Look at your notecards with the questions and the answers you found.

Yes No

- Have you found answers to all your questions?
- Are the answers to your questions accurate?
- Can you throw away material which is not useful or does not answer your questions?
- Do you need to rearrange the information in different categories?
- Can you combine the information?
- Do you need to develop new questions to cover your topic?

2. You are looking for insight. Discuss briefly the following questions with your group:

Do we have enough information to present to our fellow students on our topic?
What more information do you need?

Based on the information you gathered, can you design and present a brochure that can influence Europeans to colonize the New World (America) and to settle in your colony?

If you cannot answer this question, go back to the resources and keep researching!